

Harrison Jones BIO

Harrison Jones has been a professional sign language interpreter since 2011. Harrison earned his Bachelor of Science in American Sign Language Interpreting from William Woods University in Fulton, Missouri. Since graduating, Harrison has worked as a self-employed community interpreter, video interpreter, full-time educational interpreter and more. Harrison currently serves as an Interpreter Services Specialist at Bridge Interpreting, a department of MERIL [Midland Empire Resource for Independent Living], where he aids in the day to day operations of a non-profit, sign language interpreting agency, manages the agency's Skills Development Program, establishes professional development opportunities, and works as a community and staff interpreter. Harrison is a Certified member of the National Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf (RID), Kansas Association of Interpreters – Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf (KAI-RID) and Missouri Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf (MO-RID). Harrison presents on multiple topics, but is most passionate about professional ethics and rights, self-advocacy and professional development. Harrison currently holds a National Interpreter Certification (NIC) from the Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf and a Master Certification from the State of Missouri.